

SULTAN WILL NOT ABDICATE

Agreement Reached With Young Turk Party Relative To The Matter This Afternoon.

PRESENT CABINET WILL ALL RESIGN

Sultan's Party Failed To Accomplish What They Hoped For By Recent Disturbances In Constantinople.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Constantinople, April 21.—The cabinet will meet this afternoon and proclaim martial law. In some quarters it is believed there is an increasing possibility of arriving at an understanding which may result in a reconciliation between the young Turks and the Sultan. Recent disturbances have broken out at Antioch and Hiresk and foreigners were slain and numerous and numbers about 100,000 people. Tarsus was the birthplace of the Apostle Paul, who received the great part of his education there. It was at Tarsus that Anthony received Clodius when as Aphrodite she sailed from the Cydnus with magnificent luxury. Just south of Tarsus is Damascus, Jerusalem and Jaffa, all of which were have taken refuge at the British vice-consulate. From the meager reports which have been received from the seat of the horrible massacre of Christians in the vicinity of Adana, it would appear that from 1,500 to 5,000 persons have been killed in the fanatic uprising.

Adana has been almost for nearly a week and is practically destroyed. Tarsus, though a smaller city, has fared badly. The Sultan's army is little more than a mob, for the officers have practically all been deposed.

The uprising of the Moslems against the Christians is the same old trouble that has always been found whenever Christians and Moslems meet.

It is a strange fact that the birthplace of Christianity should now have necessity for Christian missionaries, but such is the case, and the lives of these people are in constant danger from the fanatics of opposing belief.

The present troubles have largely centered around Adana, which is a city of about 100,000 inhabitants situated 35 miles inland from the coast of Mersina, with which it is connected by a railroad.

Along this line of railroad, about half way between the two cities, is Tarsus, one of the most remarkable cities of the entire world, and in Tarsus the awful massacres have been little less extensive than in Adana.

Tarsus is now a city of only 7,000 inhabitants, whereas it was once the proud center of eastern culture and commerce. The first reports of Tarsus took us back to 690 B. C., at which time it was a thriving city.

At that time it was under the rule of Persia and was considered even ahead of Athens and Alexandria in zeal for learning and culture. The natives

During the centuries which have passed these cities have gone back and forth instead of forward and today are memories of the former grandeur are practically all that is left.

From London.—London, April 21.—A dispatch from Constantinople says a definite agreement between the government and the Committee of Union and Progress was concluded. Abdul Hamid is to remain as Sultan of Turkey, but the present cabinet will resign.

thought that there was any danger of the senate reversing itself. Another debate followed on the bill to establish a state board of optometry to regulate the practice of opticians. Senator Marsh opposed the bill, while Senator Hodesstad, its author, spoke for it. After a little further debate it was again sent to the committee on public health.

Two other notable steps were taken by the senate. The Cady bill prohibiting absolutely the use of cigarettes by boys under eighteen was carried in without debate and will now go before the commission form of government bill for either was also advanced without opposition.

DAM LEGISLATION IS BEING HELD UP

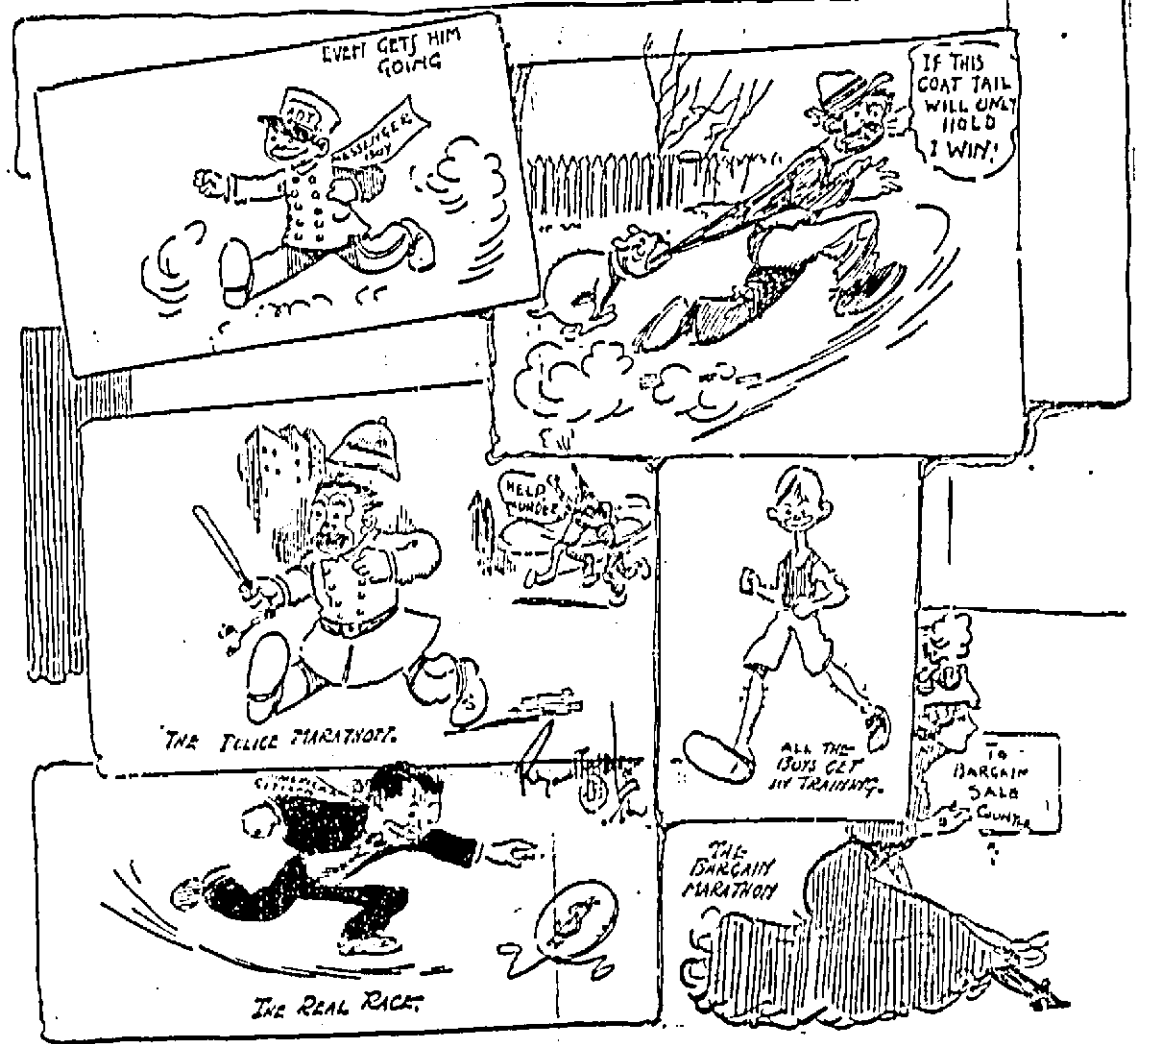

Probability That No Special Permits Will Be Granted This Session At Least.

Madison, Wis., April 21.—That there will be no legislative franchise granted for dams at this session of the legislature would appear from the vote taken yesterday in the senate, whereby that body after an all day debate voted to refer two bills to the special committee, which is to report on that proposition to the special session to be held next winter. One bill was to authorize the Menasha Paper company to build a dam across the Flambeau river in Rusk county, and the other to authorize the Apple Lumber company of Grand Rapids to build a dam across the Chippewa river. The issue was argued all day on these two bills. Senators Bird and Hanson contended for granting such franchises, and Senators Gaylord and Hastings opposing such action. The lawyers flung endless citations from court decisions at one another and talked eloquently about the rights of all the people as against the privileged few. Senator Hastings made a motion that these two bills be sent to the special committee to be appointed and late in the afternoon this came to a vote, and was carried 13 to 11. Senator Cady, in closing matters, then moved reconsideration, and Senator Hudson asked that the motion be over. Gaylord then withdrew his motion, but announced that he would move a call of the house today, if he

OSHKOSH MAYOR MAKES HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Favors Municipal Ownership And Says Taxes Will Be Higher.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Oshkosh, Wis., April 21.—Mayor Voss presented his inaugural address to the council last night and among other things advocated municipal ownership of the water works and a large number of improvements. He also sounded an alarm relative to tax law, saying the city treasury was low and it would probably be necessary to increase the tax rate considerably next time. He also promised he would see that saloons were kept orderly and declared against all slot machines, saying they would be ordered out of stores as well as saloons.

ROOSEVELT PARTY DISEMBARKS TODAY

Steamship Admiral Scheduled To Arrive At Mombasa From Where Departure For Jungle Will Be Made.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Washington, D. C., April 21.—With in the next twenty-four hours, barring unforeseen delays, the steamship Admiral will reach Mombasa, where the Roosevelt expedition will disembark to begin the journey into the African jungle. The first leg into the wilderness will be made by the hunters over the Uganda railway, which connects the island of Mombasa with the mainland and then extends on to Machelos, a total distance of some two hundred miles. At Machelos Mr. Roosevelt and his party will visit for several weeks with Sir Alfred Penny, a famous hunter with whom Mr. Roosevelt is already acquainted.

The journey from Mombasa to Machelos is an extremely picturesque one. Leaving the British East Africa seaport, the railway runs past Kilindini and dips down to Rabai, a bridge, a magnificent viaduct 1,700 feet long, connecting the island of Mombasa with the mainland, and then begins the steep climb to the small station of Changanara. At the latter point is obtained a fine view of the arms of the sea that enclose Mombasa. The ascent to Changanara is sharp and, though the distance is still short from the coast, the traveler can observe game from the car windows. At Vol, which is 1,000 feet above sea level, the Roosevelt party will have an opportunity to see Mount Kilimanjaro, one of the highest peaks in Africa, rearing its great 19,000 feet into the clouds.

The jungle railway then passes through undulating and fairly open country until the train reaches Taveta station, on the banks of the Tavo river, on the same name. An idea of the abundance of big game in this vicinity may be had from the statement that during the construction of the Uganda railway no less than 600 of the workmen were killed near Taveta by man-eating lions.

A run of some fifty miles farther will bring the hunting party to Machelos, a little over two hundred miles from Mombasa, and over 2,000 feet above the level of the sea. The night of May, probably will find the party at Machelos, the capital of the British East Africa protectorate. At Machelos the expedition's headquarters will be established for the greater portion of the hunt.

Recent advices from Mombasa tell of elaborate preparations being made there for the reception of Mr. Roosevelt. An official welcome will be extended by Frederick John Jackson, lieutenant governor of the protectorate. Mr. Roosevelt will find a genial companion in Mr. Jackson, for the latter is a famous sportsman and the author of a book on big game.

County Fairs Are To Be Inspected

Close Watch Planned For Small Fairs Throughout The State If Measure Passes.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—To regulate the conduct of county fairs and see to it that no gambling or any device of a swindling character are used the committee on claims of the assembly expects to recommend the bill for county fair inspectors. These inspectors also have the power to determine what amount shall be paid by the state to assist in maintaining the county fairs as an institution for the education of the citizen. The committee of a county fair manager in the northeastern part of the state two years ago of "padding" the prize program to draw a larger amount from the state resulted in the organization of a County Fair Managers' association. To make the fair as uplifting and as wholesome as possible this association recently recommended that the state should appoint inspectors to attend the various county fairs. The idea has met with favor.

COLLEGE RECTOR WILL BE CHOSEN

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY SELECTED TODAY FOR PLACE.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Washington, D. C., April 21.—In the Catholic church election much interest is manifested in the annual meeting of the Archbishops of the United States and the board of directors of the Catholic university in this city. The interest is due largely to the fact that the meeting is called upon to select a permanent rector of the university to succeed Bishop D. J. O'Connell, who was recently placed in charge of the San Francisco diocese. While it is generally believed that the present incumbent, Dr. Thomas J. Shanahan, who was appointed by the Pope as rector, will be re-elected, it is not altogether a certainty, as it is necessary for the board to select three names to send to Rome. Dr. Edmund T. Shanahan and Dr. Charles P. Granahan, both of whom are members of the university faculty, are regarded as the most likely candidates in addition to Dr. Shanahan.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF A HORRIBLE CRIME

Beautiful And Talented Young German Singer Shot Down Because of Winning Another's Love.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Berlin, April 21.—A great sensation has been created by the murder of Pauline Frieda Barthold, a beautiful and talented young opera singer, engaged at a theatre at Rostock, by Pauline Augusta Zobel, whose grievance was that a young man to whom she was much attached had become engaged to Pauline Barthold.

Pauline Barthold was the only daughter of a wealthy piano manufacturer of Berlin. She was gifted not only with a voice of exceptional richness and volume, but with a rare degree of personal beauty, and at the beginning of the musical season the Municipal theatre of Mecklenburg engaged her. She had been trained by one of the greatest vocal teachers of Berlin, and had commenced her career by singing in the opera house of Wilhelm's opera house.

On the night of the murder Pauline Barthold was to have taken the chief tenor role in the "Tales of Hoffman," and an hour or so before the performance was due to commence she was giving a singing lesson in her apartment. Suddenly a fashionably attired young woman called in a state of violent agitation, and demanded an immediate private conversation with the singer. The pupil was asked to step for a few minutes into an adjoining room.

While she waited she heard an interchange of angry words, followed by two shots. Other inmates of the house rushed into the room, where they found Pauline Barthold lying dead on the floor, with a bullet through her head.

The murderer attempted flight, but was arrested at the railway station. According to her story she had lived for some years in Paris, where she had become intimate with the agent of a large Berlin exporting firm. Her lover, however, came to an end, and shortly afterwards she had married Pauline Barthold. Betrayed by jealousy, she conceived a revengeful plan, and shot her successful rival dead.

OBJECT TO BUYING MACHINERY NEEDED

Establishment of Twine Factory at State Prison is Not Likely Now.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—Such a light has been made for and against the bill to purchase machinery and give a revolving fund to operate the proposed state twine plant at Waupun that it is now proposed that the bill be favored for passage with the recommendation that it be sent to the committee on claims. This will put the burden of unfavorable reporting the bill up to this body.

Six bills relating to the twine plant are pending before the committee on charitable and penal institutions and Chairman S. M. Marsh and John R. Jones have noted the bills for hearing Thursday evening. A large number of the agricultural implement dealers have notified the committee that they will be here to be heard in opposition to the measure and work in favor of the Lehr bill, which would repeal the present law. It is proposed if the bill is not used to manufacture twine that it be turned into a knitting factory that will employ more men at less expense to the state. Senator Thompson is the author of the bill to appropriate $500,000 to complete and operate the twine plant.

BREWERS TAKE A HAND AT REFORM

WOULD ABOLISH BAD SALOONS BY TAKING AWAY LICENSES.

HAVE A BILL PRESENTED

Would Create a Special State Board to Handle Matter Regardless of Politics.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—Wisconsin bids fair again to take the initiative in legislation, the subject this time being the control of the liquor traffic. The assembly, after a long session, committee yesterday evening favorably considered a bill creating a state board of liquor revocation. The bill is the result of long consideration by experts under pay from the Wisconsin Liquor Dealers' association and Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula brewers' association. It was presented to the committee by W. H. Austin, counsel for the latter organization.

Briefly, under the terms of the Austin bill, the newly created board is to have authority to revoke the license of a liquor dealer in any community of the state for any of the following reasons:

If licensee maintains a disorderly saloon, indecent or improper house.

If he permits gambling upon the premises.

If he sells to minors without order from parent or guardian, to intoxicated persons or to habitual drunkards.

If he permits girls under seventeen years unaccompanied by parents to participate in any ball or dance adjacent to or with premises on which liquor is sold.

If he has failed to observe and obey any order of supervisors, trustees or aldermen or county superintendent of poor made pursuant to the terms of the proposed law.

Any citizen under the terms of the proposed law may make complaint to the state board of five members upon which it is required to start an investigation. If the defendant fails to appear or the complaint is proved to be untrue, the board is to have the option of suspension or revocation, as it sees fit, and revocation in all cases is to be for one year, without rebate of the license fee. Provision for appeals by defendants to the circuit court of the bill, and the provision of the bill, which is a comprehensive investigation by the board of the entire subject of the liquor traffic, the entire excise laws throughout the country.

The Austin bill, which is designed to take the place of 450 acts, creates a board of five members to be appointed by the governor for terms ranging from two years to ten years, the regular term being ten years. Members must not hold any other public office. Compensation of members is to be $3,000 a year and actual expenses and it is provided that the committee, while having its headquarters in the capital, may hold sessions anywhere in Wisconsin.

Money for the support of the board is to be raised by collecting each year from every town, village and city treasurer $3 per cent of all saloon license money paid in. The committee is empowered to employ a stenographer and a secretary and to pay the usual fees to witnesses.

Yesterday's hearing was dominated by C. A. McGehee and Mr. Austin for the liquor dealers, and U. G. Humphrey for the Wisconsin Antislavery league. Mr. Humphrey said that while he was not familiar with the terms of the bill he was ready to predict that the forces of righteousness would be against it. There was a spell of excitement, when Mr. Austin covered that if the committee members recommended the bill he would charge them with being in league with the brewery interest.

ADDITIONAL POWERS GIVEN TO COUNCILS

Bill Before Legislature Would Enable the Ringing of Bells in Cities Stopped.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—The committee on cities took up for consideration this afternoon two committee bills, one because of the proposal to vest common councils with additional powers. The first measure would give to the council "power to regulate and control the ringing of bells and the blowing of whistles within the corporate limits of such cities," and the second would give the municipal law making power to license, regulate or body "power to license, regulate or suppress the practice of all palmists, or pretenses of business of all palmists, or fortune tellers, mediums, or such, and of all others who advertise or pretend to foretell future events for a fee or other compensation."

A number of the members of the legislature have already received letters asking them to oppose the measure. Many of these letters are from spiritualists and trances mediums who argue that fortune telling is a legitimate business. The hearing on the two bills is given by the assembly committee on cities.

ELLSWORTH TOLD HIS STORY TODAY

RELATES HIS DEALINGS WITH THE PLAINTIFF MRS. KEN-NEDY.

COURT ROOM IS CROWDED

Many New And Interesting Facts
Brought Out in the Testimony
This Morning And Afternoon.

In the cross examination of Mrs. Kennedy during the progress of the Ellsworth trial yesterday afternoon Attorney Nolan secured admissions from the witness that the cunning factory agreement was drawn up some days subsequent to the shrubbery contract; also that items of $300 advanced to Ellsworth in August, 1937, $300 on Thanksgiving Day, 1937, $200 on Feb. 20, 1938, and $125 on July 31, 1938, which were included in her memorandum on given to the circuit court were not mentioned in the statement she made in municipal court. Her answer to counsel's question: "The relations between you and Ellsworth were pleasant, were they not?" was "He seemed to think so."

Hotel Registrations.
Mrs. Kennedy admitted that she was registered at the Franklin Hotel in Beloit on Jan. 21, 1938, but declared that she did not see Ellsworth there or know that his name was on the register just above her own. She said that she went to Beloit to see Attorney Bates. Witness also admitted that she was registered at the

ELMER E. ELLSWORTH

Park hotel in Madison on Jan. 22 but said that she did not see Ellsworth there. She said she was at the Davidson hotel in Milwaukee on Feb. 18 but did not have an appointment to meet Ellsworth there and did not think she wrote him any note.

Exhibit of Gifts.
Witness admitted giving the defendant a number of presents at various times. She said that she gave him one silver-backed military hat-brush with the initials "E. E." engraved thereon but stated that his mate which bore the initials "K. K." and the handsome leather case were appropriated by him without her permission. His possession of a gold locket which had belonged to her was explained in an entered amount. A scarf pin which was entered among the exhibits was borrowed from her, she said. That she made him presents of a $5 goldpiece for a watch chain and a 95 cent vest which she happened to see while purchasing clothing for her husband and son, and buy, thinking it would fit him, was admitted.

Attorney Nolan: "Did you know how big around he was?"

Witness: "He had told me."

Attorney Nolan: "So far as you know he was unmarried?"

Witness: "Yes."

Attorney Nolan: "Did you love Mr. Ellsworth?"

Witness: "Not that I know of."

Attorney Nolan: "On Thursday, April 15, 1939, did you say to Mrs. Reed: 'I have nothing against Elmer. He is a fine man and was always good to me'?"

Witness: "Yes, I've always spoken well of him."

Attorney Nolan: "Did you further say: 'I'm sorry I got into this case'?"

Witness: "Yes, I might have said that."

Attorney Nolan: "In May or June did you say to Mrs. Pouchon: 'He is thinking of marrying a girl but I'll see to it that that is broken up, or words to that effect'?"

Witness: "No."

The witness, in answer to other questions, said that she had helped her son conduct a fenced-in picnic where two or three years ago, she denied that there was over a conversation with Ellsworth about her jewels in which she was represented as saying that her son, Harry, had taken some of them and given them to a girl and as asking the defendant to get an iron box made for her.

With reference to her alleged stormy interview with Ellsworth at the Park hotel in Janesville on Nov. 20 or 21, 1938, she unequivocally denied anything, "if you marry that girl I'll ruin your business and drive you out of the city," and "I have got something here (indicating her bosom) that will fix us both," or anything to that effect.

Witness declared that she did not know anything about Ellsworth's intentions of getting married until she read the account of the ceremony in the papers.

Letters to Ellsworth Read.
About twenty letters written to Ellsworth by the complaining witness at various times were read. In these the correspondent almost invariably addressed Mr. Ellsworth as "E. E." or "Friend" and never by his Christian name of Elmer. In one of them, however, an endearing term was used as follows: "Never mind, dear—they can call us the lady and man of the hour. We certainly know our business."

"Contract Not Fulfilled."
On the stand this morning Mrs. Kennedy denied that after she had paid Ellsworth $140 she had him on the street one day and told him that her husband was making such a fuss that he must return $200 of the amount or that he did so. She also denied that all of the nursery stock contracted for was delivered in the fall with the exception of a certain quantity of grape vines. She admitted having 58 trees, all told, and bushes and vines from that source and declared that there was a shortage of 450 in the grapevines. That 600 grapevines were taken by Wm. Pouchon in accordance with an arrangement between her and Ellsworth, she also denied. Witness admitted that in the examination she did not make any mention of one W. W. Woods with whom Ellsworth was supposed to have had some trouble which was alleged to have been settled with $300 advanced by her. The memorandum contained the notation "3380 to redeem a jewel," with the last word written above another one that had been obliterated. Witness insisted that she wrote the word "jewel" there originally but blotted it. That Ellsworth should go to her place to live, she said, was his suggestion.

He wanted to rent the front room and had agreed to furnish his own stove and coal at the time she wrote a letter concerning a folding-bed. Witness said that her fortune amounted to about $10,000.

Robert Kennedy Testifies.
The cross-examination of Mrs. Kennedy having been finished, her husband, Robert Kennedy, was called to the stand. He said in response to questions that he was 39 years of age; that eight or ten days before the 30th of March Ellsworth said in the presence of himself and his wife that he would have to raise some money on the rainy he was wearing, that Mr. Petcher wanted it, and that it was worth $1,000. He also heard Mrs. Kennedy say that if the rainy he would have the desired sum. He saw the iron box after Ellsworth left on the 30th of March and also saw his wife start for town with it.

Attorney Nolan: "In the examination did you say anything about a private conversation between Ellsworth and Mrs. Kennedy regarding a loan on this jewel?"

Witness: "No."

Attorney Nolan: "That's the first time he ever spoke of borrowing money of your wife in your presence?"

Witness: "Yes sir. I told her she could do as she would."

Attorney Nolan: "She'd do that any way."

Witness complained of poor eyesight and declared that he could not differentiate the ruby found in the box and the one entered as an exhibit by the defense. When his examination had been finished, the state had the jury examine the exhibits and read the case.

Ellsworth on Stand.
The state's first witness was the defendant, Elmer Ellsworth. In his opening statement he stated that he was born on a steamer bound for America from England; that his father died during the witness' infancy and that his mother was married to but subsequently separated from a man named George E. Guthrie. She also died when witness was very young and his first recollections were of living with his grandmother, Mrs. Taylor, in Springfield, Ill. During his youth he was variously known as Larsen Taylor and George Taylor. He took his stepfather's name and used it until two years ago when, acting in accordance with the wishes of his relatives and his own desire to remove himself as far as possible from the unpleasant associations and memories of a divorce action, he adopted his right name.

Places of Residence.
His first wife was Nan Morlock, whom he married under the name of Guthrie and from whom he was divorced in 1939. Afterwards he married Mamie Steinhilp of Quincy, Ill., with whom he lived intermittently until they were divorced June 27, 1937. On Nov. 21 last he married Miss Schaefer of Janesville at Chicago. He had worked for coal and heavy firms at Decatur, Kansas City, and Quincy, Ill., and as a nursery agent had been located in Indianapolis, Milwaukee, and other cities and had traveled through the states of Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Missouri, the Dakotas, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and Wisconsin. He went from Milwaukee to Janesville, where the Hawks nursery is located and came to Janesville from the latter place. As to his age, one aunt claimed he was 40 years old while the other averred he was 46. He had on one occasion registered under the name of W. W. Woods at the Davidson hotel in order to elude Mrs. Kennedy, who, he alleged, had followed him to Beloit and other cities, registered at the same hotels, and sent notes to him. One of the notes Mrs. Kennedy was alleged to have written on such occasions was entered among the exhibits. The latest of these alleged parallel hotel registrations were given as follows: Branigan Hotel, Beloit, Jan. 20 or 21, 1938; Davidson hotel, Milwaukee, Feb. 10, 1938; Park hotel at Madison, Jan. 23, 1938.

"Absolutely False."
Witness testified that the aggregate payments made for nursery stock by Mrs. Kennedy was $1,167. That any transaction with a so-called plantation ruby whereby he is alleged to have received $350 from the complaining witness and received, was absolutely denied. He told about having a small metal jewel case made for Mrs. Kennedy at Larsen's machine shop on Bluff street. According to further testimony, Mrs. Kennedy wanted to sell her place and have witness run away with her, but he told her he had no desire to do this; that she had a husband; and that her place was with him. Statements that she was a prostitute and that she had been taken by him before she was with him were attributed by Mr. Ellsworth to Mrs. Kennedy. He denied giving Mrs. Kennedy a book by Cardinal Gibbons called "The Faith of Our Fathers," a poem, a shawl supposed to have been worn by his deceased grandmother, and three back-combs.

COLLEGE MUSICIANS TO GIVE FESTIVAL

Beloit College Musical Association
Planning Elaborate Program for May 4 and 5.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Beloit, Wis., April 21.—The annual Beloit May festival will be given by the Beloit College Musical Association, the Beloit College Symphony Orchestra and the "Frolic Club" this evening largely of local talent, on May 4 and 5. It is expected that this event will eclipse those of former years as the plans which are now being made are much more elaborate.

Way to Keep Man's Heart.
A titled English woman who has published a cookbook lays down the dictum that, while a man's heart may be won in a number of ways, there is only one certain way of keeping it, namely, a succession of good dinners.

Trouble Ahead.
"It's too bad," sighed Mrs. Lapsing. "I shall have to go to the dentist's again. I had another vicarious tooth in my upper jaw!"

tions, four prominent soloists and orchestra singers will appear on the program. They are Mrs. L. S. Towles, soprano; Miss J. L. W. Johnson, alto; John Miller, tenor; and Marion Green, basso cantante. Mr. Miller and Mr. Green were formerly of the Apollo Musical club of Chicago.

At the number on May 4, the Beloit College Symphony orchestra will make its first public appearance under Director Paul Nielsen. On the afternoon of May 5, the Frolic club will give the program assisted by Mrs. Pouchon. In the evening, the student association will render "Ell-Jah" assisted by the orchestra and the four soloists of Chicago in the solo and quartette parts. The Beloit high school athletes are competing in their first Marathon race this afternoon. The course is about four miles long, starting at Rose and ending at the high school.

WHITEHEAD WILL GO TO DENVER SHORTLY

Receives Leave of Absence from State Senate to Attend to Business Matters.

Senator John M. Whitehead has obtained indefinite leave of absence from the senate, and it is reported the senator will leave today for Denver to represent the Milwaukee Trust company at the sale of the Ophir mining property. The senator was a stockholder in the company and was taken to the property after Wisconsin people invested therein. Senator Whitehead felt morally responsible for this when alleged mismanagement wrecked the property, and he said to have given his time and at least $10,000 of his money to the effort to save something from the wreck for the bondholders. He now goes to foreclose for the bondholders.

The old passenger coach, which has been in use on the Janesville-Beloit run in place of the motor car, and which has been the butt of some gentle sarcasm on the part of the Beloit papers, has been replaced by a new and up to date passenger coach, number 8. THREE PLAIN DRUNKS
IN THE COURT TODAY

Two Go to Jail and the Third Promised to Pay His Fine.

George Metcalf, who claims to have been an Edgerton lawyer, and on the strength of that assertion has secured several loans from Janesville attorneys, wound up in municipal court this morning charged with drunkenness. The court thought that he was in no fit condition to return to Edgerton and make a fresh start as he had been allowed to do, and gave him five days in the county jail in which to strengthen his good resolution. Dan Sullivan, a section hand, was charged with the same offense, but promised to pay his fine of $3 and costs. Dan tried to make a get-away with the rest of the unfortunates who had sought shelter at the lock-up, but did not get far, John Thompson, in trying to forget the cares of farm life, took too much "fall off" which, contrary to the generally accepted fact, did not quiet the troubled waters. He was picked up by the police while trying to weather the heavy snow and in default of the necessary money to pay a fine of $3 and costs, will spend six days in jail.

MAIL ORDER TRADE
In spite of all opposition to mail order houses their trade is steadily increasing and the fact is more fully established that there is no sentiment in business. While people are deploring the results of monopoly, and denouncing the Standard Oil company, and other large corporations, because small dealers are unable to compete, these same people are sending their money to the mail order houses, at the expense of home trade, and local merchants suffer as a result.

The following dispatch, just sent out from Chicago, contains some startling information:
"Warfare upon the mail order houses, in which state organizations of retail merchants have been active, has not yet been successful, judging by the gains shown by the one located on the Chicago Stock Exchange, Sears, Roebuck & Company. The gross earnings of this company it is said on good authority will reach $90,000,000 this year, which is a way in excess of anything before known in that company's history.

"For the year ending June 30, 1907, the gross sales amounted to $53,285,792, an increase over the preceding year of $2,414,025, a rate of growth more than maintained in 1908. The sudden increase to $90,000,000 reflects the prosperity bounding upon the farms in the United States and indicates that profits in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 or over $10,000,000 above the amount needed to pay the 7 per cent dividends upon the $9,750,000 of preferred stock. These figures were explanation of the phenomenal rise of the common shares on the Chicago Exchange where they have advanced over $30 a share in a few weeks. The advance was credited to pool manipulation until some linking of the tremendous business increase became known.

"The other mail order houses are said to be doing a business similarly beyond precedent. Campaigns against them have been not only ineffective but seemingly beneficial.

Fighting these great corporations is simply advertising them, and the only thing for the local merchant to do is to go after trade in his own locality and keep persistently at it. The mail order business is built on advertising and the only way to compete with it is through publicity.

THE CITY POLICE
It is well for the city that the farce of a double-headed police department is at an end. It was evident to any thinking mind that the supreme court could render but one decision, for the fire and police commission is a legal organization, and to annual vested authority would be a burlesque.

One of the purposes for which this commission was created was to elect a city marshal or chief of police, the title is immaterial.

It is to be regretted that the decision was not rendered while the old council was still in control, but it came too late to rebuke an organization whose term of office expired by limitation Monday night.

Chief Appleby has been annoyed and humiliated beyond endurance and his authority has been so handicapped that the police department has practically been without a head.

The new council will lose no time in giving him the recognition to which he is entitled, and paying him the money which should have been paid him long ago.

There never was a time in the history of the city when public sentiment was so thoroughly aroused on the enforcement of law, as today, and the officers will find that back of them is a constituency ready to render moral support.

BREWERS AS REFORMERS
The brewers of the state, thoroughly alive to the danger which threatens their business, are before the legislature with a bill providing for a commission whose duties shall be to deal with saloonkeepers who violate the law.

The argument used is that a non-partisan commission would be free from political bias and that licenses could be revoked without fear or favor. It is extremely doubtful if the bill passes as city officials are jealous of authority, and claim the right to deal with law-breakers.

The machinery of government is certainly competent, when put in motion, and public sentiment is the power behind the throne which makes it effective. While a commission would relieve responsibility, it would also add another wheel to a machine already well equipped. It must be humiliating for the brewers to admit that their customers need a commission to keep them in the straight and narrow path.

DE-LIGHTFUL
They think large thoughts out in Wisconsin, where Representative Wolcott comes from. Possibly that is why Mr. Wolcott's mind runs to figures that contain long rows of goose eggs. He has introduced a bill in congress providing that the secretary of the treasury, in times of monetary stress, may issue non-interest bearing treasury notes to the amount of $1,000,000,000,000. Wouldn't that be perfectly delightful? Every person could have a million or two under that arrangement. It would be almost as much fun as the time John Law came down out of Scotland and got France all tangled up in the unlimited production of stage money.—Pittsburg Post.

Wisconsin enjoys the services of some great minds, at the seat of national government, but Congressman Wolcott is the only democrat on the list, and his mantle for figures is a left-over relic of the Bryan free silver campaign.

George H. Gordon of La Crosse succeeds William G. Wheeler as U. S. district attorney for the western district. In spite of the opposition of Senator La Follette. The senator would like to discover in the course of time that he can't play football with the senate.

Zion City, of Dowie fame, voted "wet" yesterday. This will cause the old man to turn over in his grave, for the city was not only dry but smokeless during his administration.

Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.
(Copyright, 1903, by American Press Association.)

A WOMAN BEHIND HIM.
Doubtless some of us asked ourselves this question on Feb. 22:
What made George Washington great?
And the answer that some of us arrived at was this:
His mother.

Do you remember that rule in physics about finding the striking force of a moving body? You multiply—if we remember correctly—the velocity of the body by its weight, and you thereby figure out the impact or striking force of the body.

Just so of a man.
If you will multiply his best personal endeavors by his heredity you will get the impact of that man upon the society of his day.

Therefore if you would figure the greatness of Washington you should multiply the man by his mother.

George Washington was peculiarly a "mother's boy."

His father died when he was but ten years old, leaving the widow with six children, of whom George was the oldest, and upon her shoulders she put the impact of her forceful character.

At the age of sixteen sturdy George wanted to "run away" and seek adventures, but his mother kept a tight grip on the boy's affections, and he stayed.

Mary Washington was a great woman.

The test came when the thunder-clouds of black war gathered over the devoted head of the American colonists. The Washingtons were wealthy landowners, whose natural ties were with the aristocracy of the new world.

Which side would they take?
The son of Mary Washington, nobly backed by his splendid mother, cast his lot with the struggling patriots.

Even when congress turned toward and he was beset with spies and jealous generals it was the spirit of his self-sacrificing mother that kept him on the field of honor.

And when the long, red years of war were ended it was the mother in him that asked no greater reward than to peacefully retire to his quiet farm.

He was no conquering Napoleon; he had a patriot mother.

Senator Whitehead's bill, for rule by commission, has passed the senate and is likely to pass the house. This means an effort at practical reform.

THE NEW GUIDE TO PROSPERITY.

She—What book has helped you most in your career, Mr. Appleby?
Millanaro—My wife's first cookery book. You see, I got so that I'd sooner work than eat, and the habit has clung to me.

AN ALIBI.
Mrs. Boardman—How do you find the chicken soup, Mr. Boardman?
Mr. Boardman—I have no difficulty in finding the soup, but I am inclined to think the chicken will prove an alibi.

Life as a Duty.
It would pay pleasure seekers to try the old plan of looking on life as a duty, where pleasures came by accident or kindness, and were heartily, gratefully enjoyed. It stands to reason that if you are deliberately arranging to get pleasure, and plenty of it, you can not enjoy it as much as if your life consisted of duties, and your pleasures came by the way.

Here Is a Sample of Painless Dentistry

I extracted a tooth for a lady who was so nervous, through fear, that she was in a perfect frenzy.

After taking out the tooth I went into the adjoining room to see another patient. Several minutes passed when the lady came out and looked me in the face and said she was not able to have the work done.

When I showed her that the tooth had been out for ten minutes she declared I had performed a miracle, and left with a number of my business cards to distribute among her friends.

I don't perform miracles, but I don't hurt a bit. And I fill and crown teeth in the same "painless" manner, I. e., without pain.

It's a new method and I am the only dentist in Janesville using it. I call it the "No-Pain" method.

Come and see me if you are afraid of the dentist.

As a Steadily Flowing Current.

It seems to me that to be quiet and to be active, or rather, to be quietly active, constantly going on with untiring energy, and yet so softly as scarcely to be perceptible, this seems to me to be an approach toward perfection. And this lesson we learn from Nature, which is unceasingly and yet imperceptibly changing.—From the Memoirs of Anne J. Clough.

COUNTY BOARD IS IN SESSION NOW

MEET TO RE-ORGANIZE FOR THE COMING YEAR.

GETTLE IS THE CHAIRMAN

Unanimously Re-Elected to Head the Board—Paul is Vice-Chairman.

This afternoon at two o'clock, the members of the county board of supervisors met in special session at the court house for the purpose of organizing and transacting other business. The meeting was called to order by the chairman of the last board, L. E. Gettle, and was opened for nominations for a chairman to succeed Mr. Gettle. On motion of Sup. J. L. Hour, Mr. Gettle was unanimously selected.

The business of the meeting was opened with a discussion as to whether petitions for county assessor in road work and signed only by the town chairman should be held as legal by the board. The opinion of a number of the members was that under the new law in regard to those petitions would have to be signed by the entire board of the township. As this would at the present time necessitate that some of those presenting these petitions would have to make long trips to get the signatures of other members of the township which they represent, a resolution by Sup. Richardson to take these petitions as prima facie, when only signed by the town chairman, was adopted.

Petitions for county aid in building bridges were presented by the supervisors for the towns of Plymouth and La Prairie, the voters of Plymouth desiring the sum of $1000, and the people of La Prairie $2100 to pay half the cost. For aid in improving main travelled highways with gravel, crushed stone or clay and gravel, petitions were heard stating the desires of the voters of Harmony.

For a batch of bills for which orders had been given by former Poormaster Kenyon or had been marked by him as being all right, instructions were given to Poormaster Anderson to pay all of the same with the exception of a bill of Drs. Penber and Numan which was referred to committee number ten.

As the appropriation of $2750 for Poormaster Soegmiller, made by the board at the November session, would be insufficient for his needs, Sup. Treadway introduced a resolution to make an appropriation of an extra thousand dollars to last until the next yearly meeting of the board. The motion met with the favor of the board as it was brought out that the drains on the coffers of the poormaster have been exceedingly heavy.

The pay of Deputy Sheriff Floyd Carter, who was appointed as bailiff of the Beloit municipal court, having been held up for January, February and March, because the County clerk was not notified of the appointment until April. A communication from Judge Rosa was read and the affair brought before the board for them to decide as to whether the deputy should receive his compensation.

After considering other business the board adjourned until half past ten tomorrow morning when the announcement of the appointment of the various committees will be made.

COMES LONG WAY TO ASK FINANCIAL AID

Clergyman at Langenbrück, District of Breslau, Germany, Wants to Erect a Church.

From Langenbrück, District of Breslau, Germany, to Janesville, is a far cry at best, yet the following petition printed in Germany and English was received this past week seeking financial aid to build a church in Langenbrück. The petition is headed "Hearty Petition," and is as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen!

Kindly allow me to approach to you searching for help.

Our country is the county Glatz, a part of the Prussian province Silesia. Far off the ways of commerce, surrounded from large forests, high in the mountains, is the village Kalsow, which is situated in a beautiful and fertile valley.

The religious education for the youth remains defective and the old age lacks the necessary consolation. The rough weather prevents very often a visit to the parish church.

Notwithstanding the extreme sacrifices in the winter months, the population is unable to build a new church. Not later the Lord's house with her own fortune and yet the church should be soonest possible erected. She will be placed under the protection of St. Antonius.

Trusting to your goodness and to St. Antonius' mighty intercession we risk to implore:

"Dearest fellow believer, generous benefactor, we beg you send us a note, a bribe, to edify the St. Antonius church in Kalsow."

If the charity is small or big we accept it with heavenly thanks. Certainly your kind hands already sacrificed many alms. We hope with confidence that you will help to soften our need if you are able to do it.

God, the rewarder, will recompense your charity thousandsfold on the intercession of St. Antonius. We include the generous benefactors in our and our children's prayers. Your devoted GOTT, Clergyman, Langenbrück, Dist. Breslau, Germany.

ARE PLANNING FOR THE BASEBALL NINES

Four Intermediate Teams Elected Captains Last Night—Tennis and Basketball News.

The spring work in baseball and tennis playing for the summer is being planned for at the Y. M. C. A. The spring of work for the basketball nines will be organized and many of the students will take part in the tennis games this coming season. While the field at Athletic Park is not the best, still an effort will be made to better it and the diamond will be fixed over and some repairs made to the fence which has been almost entirely destroyed by wandering bands of crows. The grounds on the corner of Milwaukee and Locust streets, which have been used by the tennis club, are being put in shape for the coming season.

In the line of baseball the intermediate classes have already been formed and all are preparing to put on aggressively a fight in this league as was waged when basketball held sway in the "sym." The captains of these are Ron Koeh, Ralph Thipet, Sterling Campbell and Russell Wilkison.

While the work of getting the courts ready has been in charge of Physical Director Birch, on Friday evening next the members of the Tennis Club will hold a meeting at the association to decide as to the championship series, games with out-of-town teams and other business of interest to the members. Last year considerable enthusiasm was aroused among the members of the Y for this form of recreation and some very exciting games were played. It is hoped that as good a series will be arranged for this season.

While these plans were going on the basketball teams have still been fighting for the first place in the intermediate league, but in the contests last evening first place was practically made certain by the Tigers, who defeated the Pirates in a very tense, close game, by the score of 2 to 0. The Naps also lost to the Cubs, 10 to 6, and the Giants won from the Sox, 3 to 0.

STUDENTS TIE WITH PROFESSIONAL NINE

High Fly Knocked by Beloit Player Even Score With Canadian Team in Practice Game.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, Wis., April 21.—With the score 3 to 0 favoring the Moosejaw team, two men gone, the bases full and two strikes called on him, Arnold, Beloit's second-baseman, made connections with a high one into deep right and tied the score in Beloit's first game with the Moosejaw team of the Western Canadian league. It was only a practice game of but six innings and the lineup of both teams was changed every inning.

This is the first time the Moosejaws have been together on the diamond this season. They are a bunch of clean baseball players and put up a good exhibition throughout. They made their first tally in the third inning and two more in the fifth and sixth innings. Beloit was unable to complete the circuit around the bases until Arnold, who has starred in previous years, came to the rescue.

The visitors tried out three pitchers. Comar, a south-paw, was in the box during the whole game. Comar was slow and steady and allowed the Moosejaws but four hits. The Canadians put up a better game in the field than did Beloit.

The professionals are here for a series of four games. They expect to play a number of exhibition games elsewhere before returning to Moosejaw where they make their first appearance in the Western Canadian league on May 12.

The batteries were: Moosejaw—Treadway, Curro, Cradwell and Appleby; Beloit—Connors and Reed, Umpire—Peterson.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII Shown on the Screen at a Local Theatre.

This is a subject in which the pantomime of the actors brings out vividly Bulwer-Lytton's celebrated novel of that title. The brilliant and colorful scenes are shown in the photographic manner, with the allegorical scenes of the city surrounded by flowers thrown on the bosom of the ocean is a real motion picture. The story holds interest throughout, and the depiction of the amphitheater, the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, the destruction of Pompeii, the maddened populace, the falling walls and columns, the flames, and the flow of lava present a spectacular drama which cannot be praised too highly.

These films will be given at the Unique Theatre tonight and Thursday evening, April 21 and 22.

REFLEX LAMPS

ONE OF THE CAUSES OF THE REVOLUTION

What Has Brought About the Revolution in Turkey at the Present Time.

Constantinople, April 21.—The revolution in Turkey is far from an end. It will never end until the Sultan and his chamber of horrors have passed into history.

In the Sultan's park is the torture chamber of the government, which is popularly called "the garden of suffering." The existence of this relic of barbarism has been well known to the Turks for many years, but never have the horrors of it been depicted to the world so graphically as during the trial of Nedjib Pasha. The crime for which Nedjib Pasha is on trial is the torturing, even to death, of the suspected persons who came into his hands as the result of the banishment of about four years ago, in which seventy persons were killed, the Sultan himself being aimed at by the assassins. Among those captured were many innocent parties but Nedjib's tortures were not unshared pending an investigation. The tortures him: "Have you no pity on your wife and child? Listen to me! I swear to you on the head of the Sultan Abdul Hamid that if you confess I'll give you instantly two hundred pounds and an important post."

The prisoner said that he knew nothing, and could not, therefore, confess, whereupon the Pasha burst into a violent rage and struck Kavedjian in the face, saying to him at the same time: "Don't you know that the Emperor Nero had men devoured by lions? Now, I'll treat you in the same way if you don't confess."

After having undergone other tortures, Kavedjian was finally confined in a fortress, where he remained until the proclamation of the constitution.

A certain Tighir Shinn Effendi appeared to give the evidence of a woman called Nishan who was herself ashamed to tell in person how she had been treated.

And so the tortures of Turkey have continued under the Sultan. To be sure his power has been curtailed by the constitution, but the young Turks, who seem to hold the power, are thoroughly incensed over these depredations and they will have to be torn out by the root before Turkey will ever be at peace and advanced to her present position among civilized nations.

Day after day Nedjib's victims, those of them who have managed to survive his tortures, have appeared to testify against him, wearing crippled and mutilated bodies. Many of them died under his hands, and can never testify. The pitiful procession of wretched and ruined men who have hobbled into court to tell what they suffered has shocked and horrified the city.

A favorite punishment of his majesty's and one which was first discovered and recommended by Kithano-Imany, the Sultan's clown, consists in the gradual squeezing of the body by means of wraths. This entails horrible suffering and rarely leads to death, but there have been instances of men subjected to this torture dying in the hands of the executioner.

Another kind of torture, almost as simple, consists in the application of hot eggs, taken from boiling water, under the armpits. Experts here—and Turkey contains many experts on this subject—say that the suffering thus caused gives such a shock to the nervous system that the victims who undergo it soon go mad.

This form of torture was applied to the eunuch Muzaffer Aga, who was exiled to Mecca about ten years ago for having divulged the secrets of Yıldiz to the English ambassador.

Deprivation of sleep is another punishment, and also one that quickly leads to loss of reason.

Executions are rare inside the palace. Women and eunuchs are sometimes, it is true, put to death even in the imperial kitchen, but, as a rule, a person on whom the Sultan has decided, and whose head was, according to Mehmed's son in his authoritative life of his father, sent to Yıldiz in a box labeled "Oil."

Among the people who were arrested and killed in the American hills of Stambul, Mr. Kavedjian said the judge took eight fifteen members of the secret police arrested him and brought him to Yıldiz, where he was immediately led to the torture chamber, where he first met Nedjib Pasha.

The latter's first words were: "Do you see that blood on the floor? Well, it's the blood of your friend Manouk, and I'll add some of yours to it," whereupon he rushed at the prisoner and began to beat him on the head with a stick.

The prisoner screamed with pain, whereupon Nedjib shouted: "Keep silent or it will be all the worse for you!" They then made him remove his upper garments and whipped him till he lost consciousness.

When he came to himself he tried to make him confess, but as he had nothing to confess, they beat and whipped again until he fainted. When he came to his senses the second time his fingers were broken, his hands swollen, his body covered with blood and bruises. He made a sign to indicate that he had lost the power of speech, but Nedjib said, "I'll make him talk. Bring his wife here and we'll beat her too."

For a dozen days after this he was allowed to rest. Then he was again brought before the pasha, who said to him: "Have you no pity on your wife and child? Listen to me! I swear to you on the head of the Sultan Abdul Hamid that if you confess I'll give you instantly two hundred pounds and an important post."

The prisoner said that he knew nothing, and could not, therefore, confess, whereupon the Pasha burst into a violent rage and struck Kavedjian in the face, saying to him at the same time: "Don't you know that the Emperor Nero had men devoured by lions? Now, I'll treat you in the same way if you don't confess."

Experts here—and Turkey contains many experts on this subject—say that the suffering thus caused gives such a shock to the nervous system that the victims who undergo it soon go mad.

This form of torture was applied to the eunuch Muzaffer Aga, who was exiled to Mecca about ten years ago for having divulged the secrets of Yıldiz to the English ambassador.

Deprivation of sleep is another punishment, and also one that quickly leads to loss of reason.

Executions are rare inside the palace. Women and eunuchs are sometimes, it is true, put to death even in the imperial kitchen, but, as a rule, a person on whom the Sultan has decided, and whose head was, according to Mehmed's son in his authoritative life of his father, sent to Yıldiz in a box labeled "Oil."

Among the people who were arrested and killed in the American hills of Stambul, Mr. Kavedjian said the judge took eight fifteen members of the secret police arrested him and brought him to Yıldiz, where he was immediately led to the torture chamber, where he first met Nedjib Pasha.

The latter's first words were: "Do you see that blood on the floor? Well, it's the blood of your friend Manouk, and I'll add some of yours to it," whereupon he rushed at the prisoner and began to beat him on the head with a stick.

The prisoner screamed with pain, whereupon Nedjib shouted: "Keep silent or it will be all the worse for you!" They then made him remove his upper garments and whipped him till he lost consciousness.

When he came to himself he tried to make him confess, but as he had nothing to confess, they beat and whipped again until he fainted. When he came to his senses the second time his fingers were broken, his hands swollen, his body covered with blood and bruises. He made a sign to indicate that he had lost the power of speech, but Nedjib said, "I'll make him talk. Bring his wife here and we'll beat her too."

For a dozen days after this he was allowed to rest. Then he was again brought before the pasha, who said to

Iowa Woman's Action Brings Strange Story to Light.

Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 21.—Mrs. Eva Van Trump, Des Moines society leader, yesterday parted with a diamond ring valued at $400, a family heirloom, to buy the freedom of Prof. Robert Gorano, palmist, who is under arrest charged with obtaining $268 from Mrs. Ida Day upon promise, she says, that he would elope with her.

Mrs. Van Trump says the professor is her long lost brother. Gorano asserts that he never saw Mrs. Van Trump until a few hours ago; that the ring is the property of his wife and that who left it in Mrs. Van Trump's care recently. Mrs. Van Trump asserts that she and Gorano were born in England and came to America when quite young.

The $100 furnished by the woman who claims to be his sister was used to pay Mrs. Day, who has withdrawn the charges.

PEACE BETWEEN NATIONS.

Netherlands and Venezuela Sign a Protocol Ending Disputes.

Willemstad, Curacao, Apr. 21.—It was said yesterday that diplomatic relations between Venezuela and the Netherlands will be re-established at once. The protocol signed between the two governments in settlement of matters in dispute contains, among other things, a material reduction in the differential duties hitherto imposed on merchandise from the Dutch Antilles.

THE SPLENDOR THAT MAY SOON BE A MEMORY OF THE PAST WITH THE SULTAN OF TURKEY

Constantinople, April 21.—Among all the European sovereigns none is surrounded by more gorgeous splendor than the Sultan of Turkey. His gardens, his palace and his equipage, his footmen's laces, all bespeak Oriental grandeur.

The events of the next few days will demonstrate once and for all whether the Sultan will be longer the supreme monarch of all he surveys or whether these will only be fond memories of the past. It is known he has at his disposal in the port a ship, which is really a partially armed battleship, under the direction of two Americans to convey him away from Constantinople should the Young Turks make the situation too hot for him. His clever move of a few months ago in accepting the Young Turks' constitution is generally thought to have been diplomatic but not sincere. The recent uprising in Adana, Tarsus and Mesina are generally supposed to have been inspired by the Sultan in the hope of turning popular feeling against the Young Turks, but with the Young Turks in command of the army and preparing to attack Constantinople at any moment there is little doubt but that they will be successful and that such a move as he formerly made will not meet with the same approval and that he will have to abdicate the throne.

THE ELECTIONS IN ILLINOIS

LIQUOR THE ISSUE AT POLLS IN MANY OF STATES AND TOWNS.

GAINS MADE BY THE "WETS"

Liquor Forces Too Strong for the Women of Kewanee—Mattoon Chooses Liberal Mayor—Bloomington Swept by Republicans.

Chicago, Apr. 21.—In the elections held throughout Illinois yesterday the saloon and anti-saloon forces fought for supremacy, and the reports indicate that the result is about a standoff. In the towns in which "no-license" was the issue party politics cut but little figure.

Among the towns that voted "dry" were Jerseyville, Benton, Centerville, McLeansboro and many smaller towns.

In many towns that voted "dry" last year the saloon issue was still present, although not directly voted on.

Many Towns Vote "Wet." The principal "wet" victories yesterday were at Kewanee, Mattoon, Carlyle, Carmi, El Paso, Fulton, Havana and Bushnell.

In towns where the elections were on purely party lines without the saloon issue to interfere the Republicans and Democrats split about even.

Kewanee, Ill., Apr. 21.—In a hotly contested municipal election yesterday the following city officers were elected: Mayor, Alexander McLean; city clerk, O. D. Peterson; city attorney, H. Sterling Pomroy; city treasurer, C. F. Sullivan; police magistrate, Andrew T. Boyle.

In the exciting "wet" and "dry" contest, which attracted state attention because Kewanee is the largest city in Illinois in which this issue was to the front, the "wets" won, with many women working at the polls.

Anna's Mayor a Democrat. Anna, Ill., Apr. 21.—In the city election the Democrats elected the following: Mayor, William M. Edleman; city treasurer, Robert L. Willis; aldermen, Second ward, J. B. McKoy; Third ward, T. A. Carlisle; Fourth ward, Henry N. Kohlner.

The Republicans elected Logan Horn alderman in the First ward, while Louis B. Tuttle, independent candidate for city attorney, defeated J. E. N. Edwards, on the Republican ticket, by a majority of 85, and J. L. Hammond, present incumbent, was elected on the independent ticket for city clerk.

Republicans Lose Elgin. Elgin, Ill., Apr. 21.—Albert Fehrmann, independent Democrat, was elected mayor by a majority 55,510 votes over Joseph Newman (Rep.). Fehrmann received 2,767 and Newman 2,257. The mayor-elect resigned as a member of the city council to become a candidate for mayor. Newman is a well-known creamery man and is a member of the Illinois State Dairyman's association.

"Wets" Win at Harvard. Harvard, Ill., Apr. 21.—The city election here was the most exciting ever known in the history of the city. The fight centered largely on local option and anti-local option lines, and also on a more rigid enforcement of the city ordinances. A year ago Harvard voted "dry." J. H. Vickers, the present mayor, ran on a high license platform against E. R. Hunt, president of the Law and Order league and a leader in the local option movement. The vote was Vickers 503 to 209.

Danville Elects Democrat Mayor. Danville, Ill., Apr. 21.—Louis Platt, a Democrat, running on the Citizens' ticket, was elected mayor over William F. Baum (Rep.), by 800 majority.

McLean County Results. Bloomington, Ill., Apr. 21.—Secor voted "wet," electing George Noble mayor and other officers favoring that platform.

Minot voted for license by 185. El Paso voted "wet." Weldon went anti-license.

Bloomington was swept by the Republicans, Robert L. Carlock, former county clerk, being elected mayor after an exciting campaign. A majority of 11,000 over Edward Holland, Democratic candidate for re-election. Carlock promised to enforce the ordinances strictly.

Chenoy People's Ticket Wins. The People's ticket won at Chenoy by 160, B. J. Elfrink being chosen mayor over Jacob Linden.

Colfax voted for license, reversing the vote of two years ago, W. E. Gundy being elected president over E. S. Lyons by 23.

Anti-license won in Saybrook. License won in Danvers. Anti-license won in Hayworth. Leroy voted no-license.

Alton, Ill., Apr. 21.—Mayor Edmund Bonil was re-elected. He received 2,201 votes as head of the administration ticket. His opponent, Charles Clifford, received 1,238 votes.

Earthquake Follows Eruption. Mexico City, Apr. 21.—A severe eruption of the Cullima volcano, followed by an earthquake shock, has spread terror and confusion among the inhabitants of nearby towns and villages, many of whom deserted their homes and fled to points outside the affected zone.

Rockford Brewers Indicted. Rockford, Ill., Apr. 21.—The Rockford Brewing Company was indicted yesterday on 152 counts for violation of the anti-saloon law. Each count is subject to a $100 fine. An indictment, charging conspiracy, was voted against officers of the brewing company.

IOWA ELECTRICAL MEN MEET.

Hold Their Ninth Annual Convention at Cedar Rapids.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Apr. 21.—The American Auditorium was well filled this morning when President L. D. Mathes of Dubuque called to order the ninth annual convention of the Iowa Electrical association. Mayor J. T. Carmody welcomed the visitors and the president delivered his annual address, after which routine business was transacted. This afternoon's program included technical papers by Mrs. L. D. Mathes, Thomas Ferris of Oaaga and D. F. Fradette of Des Moines. In the evening a theater party will be given by the Cedar Rapids & Iowa Railway and Light Company and the Cedar Rapids & Marion City Railway Company. Other social features have been arranged for tomorrow, the last day of the convention, and papers will be presented by M. A. Harrison of Novato, M. P. Ellis of New York, J. H. Lind of Dubuque, W. W. Stearns of Humboldt and W. J. Greene of Cedar Rapids. The ballroom of the Auditorium is filled with an interesting electrical exhibit.

$10,000,000 IN SMUGGLED GOODS. Government Officers Tell of Frauds in Last Ten Years.

New York, Apr. 21.—Further investigation of the systematic smuggling of Paris gowns into this port led the custom house officials to declare that the syndicate prominently has smuggled in $10,000,000 worth of goods each year for the last ten years, thus defrauding the government out of $600,000 annually in customs duty.

Efforts to avoid criminal prosecution and to shield from publicity the prominent women for whom the $55,000 worth of recently seized gowns were intended, resulted in the offer by reputable attorneys, representing anonymous clients, of $250,000 to the government to drop the investigation.

The federal grand jury is investigating the case and it is intimated that the identity of the smugglers will be revealed.

BILL MAKES WHEAT FREE. Representative Scott Would Remove Duty from Imports.

Washington, Apr. 21.—Representative Scott of Kansas will ask the ways and means committee of the house to curb the wheat-corner movement being conducted by James Patten in Chicago by temporarily removing the duty from wheat.

Mr. Scott has prepared a bill which he will submit to the committee asking it to report the bill to the house, recommending immediate action. The bill, as drawn, suspends the duty of 25 cents a bushel on wheat.

There is little chance that the committee will confuse congress by the interpolation of any legislation while the tariff bill is being considered. Members who heard of the Scott bill could see little good in it.

No Parole for Stensland Now. Joliet, Ill., Apr. 4.—Paul O. Stensland will not be pardoned nor paroled at present, in spite of a most eloquent appeal made in his behalf by Attorney Clarence Darrow of Chicago yesterday afternoon. While the decision of the board had not been made public and will not be until the official report of the board is made to Gov. Deneen at Springfield, the attitude of the board is known.

REJECTED GIRL KILLS ACTOR. Slays Man Who Had Announced Engagement to Another.

Jacksonville, Fla., Apr. 21.—Following closely on the heels of an announcement of the approaching marriage of Earl P. Adams, an actor and stage director, of the Miami stage company, now playing here, to Miss Elizabeth Bagley, Miss Jessie Brown, a well-known young woman to whom Adams had been previously engaged, shot and killed him yesterday at her home, where it is alleged Adams went to explain to her his approaching marriage to Miss Bagley.

Adams was shot several times and placed in the county jail. Miss Brown is the sister of May Brown, who was killed here in 1905 by her fiance, who at the same time shot her mother, Mrs. Freeman and Detective Cahoon.

Test for Indiana Option Law. Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 21.—The constitutionality of the county local option law passed by a special session of the state last September is at issue in a case filed in the state supreme court yesterday. The case is that of Charles P. Galey, a Crawfordville saloon-keeper, who sought a permanent injunction to prevent the commissioners of Montgomery county from holding an election. The injunction was denied Galey and since that time the county has voted "dry."

Russ Acquitted by Jury. Whitewater, N. C., Apr. 21.—Cleveland Russ, who has been on trial here since last Thursday, was acquitted in the superior court of the murder of Jerry Bigford, a young farmer and storekeeper, March 24.

Representative Vreeland of New York May Succeed Chairman Fowler as Head of the Committee on Banking. Charles N. Fowler Above, and E. B. Vreeland, Below.

Washington, D. C.—A constantly recurring rumor is at last here that Representative Charles N. Fowler of New Jersey is to be let out of his position as chairman of the committee on banking. This is alleged to be on account of his antagonistic views towards Speaker Cannon and because he has done his best to down the speaker and put himself into the chair.

Representative Vreeland of New York is said to be slated for the appointment. Mr. Vreeland succeeded in passing through the house a currency bill last winter, even though he was not in any way connected with the committee on banking, and won for himself considerable praise.

WHAT OPINION
MEANS TO STATE

BROWN VS. APPLEBY SUIT HAS WIDESPREAD EFFECT.

SUSTAIN GRIMM'S DECISION

Judge Barnes Gave Verdict of the Supreme Court—Interprets Law
Very Clearly.

While the decision of the supreme court in the suit of John Brown versus George Appleby dealt directly with the Janesville case and the special charter under which Janesville is governed, it established a point in law relative to other cities who also have special charters, where state laws might conflict with charter regulations. Beloit, Oshkosh and Kaukauna are

CHIEF OF POLICE G. M. APPLEBY among some of the cities of the third class that will be affected and in all of them similar cases and conditions have been begun to test the right of the legislature to pass laws which conflict with their charter privileges.

In his opinion Judge Barnes sustained the opinion of Judge Grimm of the circuit court in every particular.
The fire and police commission were shown to have had the power to name the head of the police department and of all members of the department without any interference by the common council. The opinion recites briefly the facts of the case, as follows:

"Section 18 of chapter 3 of the special charter of the city of Janesville (ch. 221 p. 2 S. laws of 1882) confers on the city marshal all the powers of a constable under the laws of this state. It provides that:

"It shall be his special duty to cause all laws, ordinances, orders, resolutions and by-laws in force in this city to be kept, observed and performed, and to do and perform such acts and duties as said council shall from time to time direct and prescribe.

"It is apparent from the law quoted that the city marshal is essentially a police officer, being required to perform the duties and functions invariably required of such officers. The fact that he is incidentally clothed with the powers of a constable does not negate the fact that he is a policeman. It is made his special duty by the charter to enforce the ordinances, orders and resolutions of the city council, and to perform such other duties as the council may direct.

"To say that an officer clothed with such powers is not a member of the police force of the city would be contrary to our notion of what the functions of a police officer really are.

ING OF HIS SHOW DAYS.

HE STILL LOVES ANIMALS

Has Large Variety of Valuable Wild
Pets at His Farm at Evansville.

George Washington Hall, the oldest show man now living, still retains his lively interest in circuses and circus equipment. He visited Janesville yesterday and told many interesting stories of the lions and the leopards, the bears and the elephant "Old Charley," which he has on his farm at Evansville.

Mr. Hall is the last of the type of old showmen who fifty years ago created the circus business in the country and were the pioneers of the present.

DINNER IN HONOR OF RECENT DECISION

Friends of Chief of Police Gathered Around Feast to Celebrate Court's Decision.

Last evening in the ordinary of the Hotel Myers, an important dinner, promoted by several of Chief Apple-by's friends, was given. The affair was in honor of the recent decision of the supreme court and lasted from half past seven until ten o'clock. While the affair was a sort of congratulatory event for Mr. Appleby, nothing but the kindest of feelings were shown toward John Brown, his opponent. In the case, following the banquet toastmaster was given, David Atwood acting as toastmaster. Among those who spoke were: W. S. Joffris, W. H. Greenman, Charles S. Putnam, Frank J. Mount,
M. L. Osborne, Ex-Mayor S. B. Hod-dick, R. H. Van Clive, George D.
Simpton, John F. Sweeney, H. G. Car-

TURN OVER TIME
When Nature Hints About the Food.

When there's no relish in any food and all that one eats doesn't seem to do any good then is the time to make a turn over in the diet. For that's Nature's way of dropping a hint that the food isn't the kind required.

"For a number of years I followed railroad work, much of it being office work of a trying nature.

MALE HALL AND JUMBO THE SECOND, KNOWN AS OLD CHARLEY ent mammoth elephants of the Ringling Bros. and other of the large railroad shows that today make jumps of a hundred or two hundred miles from one show town to another.

When Mr. Hall began his circus career as a steady hatcher he was with a show that showed in one town in the afternoon and evening and then loaded its tents and cages onto wagons and pulled them across the country a dozen or so miles to the next stand. It was not the circus of today, either. It was either a menagerie with a trained horse or so and a lecturer to tell of the animals or a few tumbler, bare-back riding stunts and trapeze work.

The combination of the two, menagerie and circus proper came later and then came the concert and the side shows all combined into one monstrous "aggregation of splendor." Col.
Hall has been through it all. He has traveled by wagon with his own show, traveled by boat to the West Indian and South and Central America and has traveled in trains. Today he keeps his interest in circuses and circus life even though not on the road himself, by training his wild pets to do different acts on his farm at Evansville.

"I have thirteen lions, two leopards, two jaguars, one grizzly bear, one black bear, one chimpanzee, two mountain lions and "Old Charley," the elephant on my farm at present," said Col. Hall yesterday. "Say they are an interesting sight. There is a trainer up there now breaking them in for a big ring act and he works them out beautifully. His name is DeHaller, an Argentinean, who knows all about animals and he has his hands full with my bunch I can tell you."

"Had a big open cage built for the net and here the lions and jaguars and leopards and the bears and tigers.
Dogs do some wonderful work.
It takes lots of patience to break the animals into ring work. They must get acquainted with one another first and to do this we put them in cages together with just bars between them.
Then after they get used to each other we let them in the cage together."

"When they start in on the big cage act they take two or three at a time and teach them what they want them to do. The trainer must work patiently with them and show no sign of being afraid. Then when two or three get broken in we put others inside and so on until we have all we are going to use accomplished our work."

"That DeHaller fellow makes them stop around lively and he and his wife have worked wonders with them. One of my lionesses, a big African one, has just become the mother of three little lion cubs—two males and one female—and she is a sight caring for them, just like a big cat does. Last year she had two baby male lions and they are big fellows now and cannot understand their mother's interest in her new babies.

"Of course I have a lot of other in-imals up there—sacred cows, dromedaries and such like including some dogs, but the list of animals is not complete to everyone unless I add "Old Charley," the biggest elephant alive."

"I bought "Old Charley" several years ago from the Ringling Bros.
He has not grown any since he came to me but he was bigger then than any other elephant in captivity. I do not know how old he is but he must be pretty aged any way. Great big hulk of a thing, he minds my daughter Mabel as if he was a kitten.

"Mabel has a fine net with him that is a wonder and "Old Charley" enjoys it just as much as the people do. He is not cross and performs nicely for his pleasure. I know a lot and "Charley" has more than his share of intelligence. Why, they remember places and faces just as well as a human person does.

IN MONUMENT BUYING

more so than in many of the things you buy, you want to trade where you can place absolute reliance upon the firm you are doing business with. This firm guarantees that every piece of granite or marble it turns out is a perfect specimen, and that the prices asked are the lowest it is possible to place, even with our superior advantages of having connections direct with manufacturers and not buying through jobbers.
Our lettering, too, is perfect. Our Mr. Sandeway, who has been in Janesville for a number of years, has probably lettered more big jobs and little ones too, than any other man in Janesville. Call at our display room and see the exhibit.

His lordship started rowing, taking strokes first with one hand and then with the other, and the fleet got under way and waited, as you might say, gazing across to the main. "Twas as calm as a millpond and they hid land up towards the point by the Neck Road. Then, the clam slaughterers got out and disappeared round behind the point. I went on with my rigging.

It got to be 11 o'clock and no signs of 'em. Then 12; lunch time. 'Twas coming in fast, you couldn't have got a clam now without a diving outfit. But still all quiet on the Potomac. I went up to the house and commenced to slice ham and fry potatoes. I had my doubts about that chowder.

Everything was ready by and by and I stepped to the door to take an observation. And then I see 'em coming, rowing more crab fashion than ever. I walked down to the inlet to meet 'em. And such sights as they was, blessed if they didn't look like they'd been through the war—Lord James especial.

"Hi, Sol!" sings out Hartley, as the skiff floats in, broadside on. "Hi! but I'm glad to see you. Give James a lift with the clams and things, will you? I'm done up."

He looked it. He was barefoot and bareheaded, with his trousers rolled up above his knees and his shirt sleeves above his elbows. And the violet was the same, and both of 'em soaking wet and just plastered with wet sand and clay.

I gave one glance at them bare legs and arms.

"For the land sakes!" I sings out. "Pull down your pants and your sleeves. You're burned to a blister already."

And so they was. Tender white skins like theirs, wet with salt water and out in that sun!

They pulled 'em down looking like they didn't know what for, and come hopping and groaning ashore. His lordship's back was so lame from bending over that he couldn't hardly straighten up without howling.

"Did you need the extra bucket?" I asks.

"Why, no, I believe not," says Hartley. "You see I dug for a while and then I went to look for better places, and James did the digging. We found holes enough, but they didn't seem to be the right kind. Worms, did you call those things? Sea serpents, you meant, I guess. I never saw such creatures. And there was one place where there were millions of holes, but chockful of crabs."

"Um-hum," says I. "Fiddlers. You must have gone plumb up into the march bank to run into them."

"They was 'orrid things," says Lord James, rolling his eyes. "And they 'ad claws and swarmed over my feet. I gave you my word I was that—"

"That'll do, James," says Hartley. "Well, I was successful at last, skipper. Struck a place where clams were actually in layers just under the sand. We turned 'em over with the hoes like winking. I pointed 'em out and James picked 'em up. Just look at those buckets, will you?"

I looked at 'em. There was three buckets chock, brimming full.

"Good land of love!" says I. "Them ain't clams—they're quahaugs."

"There're clams in New York," he says.

"Maybe so," says I. "We call 'em quahaugs here. And there's no quahaugs in this part of the bay unless they've been bodded. Was there any marks around 'em?"

"There was a lot of sticks stuck up around," he says, "but we knocked those out of the way."

"You did?" says I. "Did you leave any of the—what you call clams?"

"You bet we didn't," says he. "We took the last one. Had two more trouble finding 'em to leave any."

"Humph!" says I. "That's nice. You've cleaned out somebody's private quahaug bed. Them quahaugs was all brought over by somebody and planted where you found 'em. The sticks was to mark the place."

"You don't mean it?" he says.

"Yes, I do," says I. "I can't wait to hear from them quahaugs no more long."

then, but his claim wouldn't bear of it. Martin said let the poor fellow have his nap out. He knew how he felt. So Van gave in after awhile.

Pretty soon Hartley got tired of waiting and said he was going to turn in; he was played out, he said. Van wanted to wait longer, but he didn't. He went to bed, too. At half-past ten or so my round of chores was done and I sung out to Lord James to wake up and come in because I wanted to look up. But he wouldn't.

"Let me alone," he says, pleading. "I'm happy for the first time in 'ours. I'll look up, myself, by and by," he says. So I left him out on the piazza and went aloft and turned in. And it didn't take me long to get to sleep, I tell you.

What woke me up was a howl like an engine tooting. I bounced out of bed like I had springs under me, instead of corn cobs and ropes.

Then comes another screech. Then a smash—bang—smash! Then more yells, and feet going down the hall and falling downstairs. Then a door banging and sounds like all the furniture on the island was being upset.

I lit a lamp and got out into the hall. There I met the Heavenly Twins just coming from their room. They were dressed light and gauzy, same as me, but Van had a revolver in his hand and Hartley was swinging a chair by the back.

"What on earth?" says Van.

"It's in the dining room, whatever it is," says I.

I grabbed up something to use for a club—it turned out later to be the little joint of Hartley's fish pole—and tiptoed downstairs to the dining room door. And that door was locked fast.
